

DR MARLENE MD

The American Black Bear

Where is the American Black Bear?
With fur so very dark
Gone into the woodlands
Clawing on tree bark.

Where is the American Black Bear?
With a keen sense of smell
Searching for some food
To keep healthy and well.

Where is the American Black Bear?
With claws sharp and long
Drinking from the cool stream
While growling a bear song.

Where is the American Black Bear?
Climbing up a tree
Munching on juicy berries
In the woods, roaming free.

Where is the American Black Bear?
With legs oh so strong
Wandering in the mountains
Where bear does belong.

Where is the American Black Bear?
Walking with room to roam.
Thanks to the National Forests,
American Black Bear has a home

Dr Marlene Wolf Smith
Healthcare Educator
Author & Speaker
Spoken Word Poet

cell: 954-263-3632

First published in
"Serenity View
Poems & Images from the Blue Ridge Mountains"
(April 2021)

